Leon County Supervisor of Elections Alerts Voters to Unofficial Voter Registration Mailings

Leon County, FL – Mark S. Earley, Supervisor of Elections for Leon County, alerts voters to unofficial voter registration mailings that have begun appearing in voter’s mailboxes. Over 12,000 Leon County residents will receive letters from the Voter Participation Center or the Center for Voter Information. Each letter contains a partially filled voter registration application form and a return envelope addressed to the Leon County Supervisor of Elections Office.

The Voter Participation Center and the Center for Voter Information are nongovernmental, third party organizations. They are not affiliated with the Elections Office. The Elections Office has neither printed nor distributed these mail pieces, nor supplied the data used in them. “These mailings often contain outdated or inaccurate information about the recipient’s registration status,” said Supervisor Earley. “Incorrect data in past mailings has misled or angered voters who received them for family members who are deceased, never resided in the household, or are addressed to minor children or even pets. These mailings often arouse suspicion from voters who believe their registration has in some way been compromised, or cause confusion and distrust in elections. It is a shame that at a time of heightened concern about elections, these groups continue to contact our voters, causing even more confusion.”

Residents who wish to be removed from future mailings from the Voter Participation Center or the Center for Voter Information are encouraged to contact those organizations directly.
